/ Ove Korsgaard Grundtvig rundt

With Grundtvig rundt – en guide Ove Korsgaard details a range of 'Grundtvig issues', which still today have great relevance in Denmark and greatly affect opinions and attitudes. The modern relevance of this folk revivalist pastor, psalm composer and poet is addressed in terms of: the Nation, the People, the Modern, Citizenship, School, Church, the Stranger, Women, Feelings, Struggle, Enlightenment and Human Nature. Many readers will be surprised at how advanced and relevant Grundtvig's ideas still remain in our digital, untraditional times.

OVE KORSGAARD, b. 1942, has a doctorate in the theory of education and has been Professor of Pedagogy at the University of Aarhus since 2007. Korsgaard left school early and worked on different farms before attending agricultural college and high school. He then decided to opt for a different career path. He trained as a teacher at Den Frie Lærerhøjskole and subsequently read for his doctorate whilst also working at Gerlev Sports Academy. Subsequently, he was appointed professor at the Danish School of Education.

ABOUT BOOKS FROM DENMARK

Books from Denmark is a new initiative from the Danish Arts Foundation, taking over from the previous publication, Danish Literary Magazine. Twice a year, Books from Denmark will present a 'right now' selection of the best and most interesting Danish fiction, non-fiction and Children and Young Adult literature. All titles are selected by the Committee for Literary Project Funding, with literary quality as the key selection criteria.
